JUNIOR CLASS EDITION

JANUARY 30, 1959.

The Right Honourable Lester B. Pearson, leader of the Liberal opposition in the House of Commons, has been officially invited to deliver a speech at the first meeting of the newly formed Liberal Club here on the campus.

There is some talk of more clubs of the same nature being formed in the near future to express the views of other political parties. If this does develop we will have something of which this college can be proud...students looking sensibly into the future of our nation.

STUDENTS' SOCIETY MEETING

Tuesday, February 3, 1959

at 3:30 p.m.

Assembly Hall

AGENDA:

- (1) Amendment of Constitution
- (2) Discussion re Student fees.

EDITORIAL

From early childhood many of the students here at Macdonald have had basic foundations of life that they consider are fundamental to their way of life. Two beliefs that are common to many are "Two wrongs don't make a right", and "Thou shalt not kill". How many people consider these things in the light of our country's stand on Capital Punishment? There is some talk of the government abolishing Capital Punishment and it might be of timely importance if we consider the question as many will leave this campus with the responsibility to vote and lead our fellow countrymen.

Some points that may well be considered are those of deterrence, equal application of the law irrespective of financial standing, conviction of the innocent and the demoralizing effect to the public, officials in charge of correction institutions and prisoners in institutions.

In the past we have moved to a path of rehabilitation and development of convicted persons and shied away from the violence and brutality associated with the deterrent view. One can readily admit it is impossible to rehabilitate a man who is dead. A man can be given a chance to change and give something of value to society and only released when he can show he is ready.

When one considers the question of equal application of the law we might do well to remind ourselves that rich men do not hang. They can afford the finest of defence to which a poor man has very little access. The conviction of innocent people has happened and will happen again. The innocent that are convicted, though seldom, will fall among those that cannot pay the price of the best legal minds. Many people have made names for themselves in the legal world, at the expense of those less fortunate than themselves and if there is no life at stake the sensationalism is lessened and the administration of justice can be carried on with less delay.

The value of human life and human dignity has reached a low ebb. The time may well be ripe to replace our system of Capital Punishment with prison terms and restore some value to human life.

J. M. Graham.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Brittain Hall.

Dear Editor,

It has been noted of late that some of the inmates of this residence, Brittain (Detention) Hall, are excessively noisy when travelling from the third floor to the TV room in the basement.

Though many inmates still stick to the standard methods of noisemaking with steel-soled army boots, loud laughter, obscure language and all the rest of it, a new group has tried a different tack.

The aforementioned group is the Dry Divers Club whose members do not design to use the stairs, but instead dive down the stairwell without even the benefit of a conglomerate of wet noodles. This method, though quick, produces severe whistling noises, grunts, screams and the tinkling of glass (from the divers' bottles of concentrated H₂O which have been rent asunder).

I do not wish to appear too much the steaming, intercontinental swamp but these obnoxious noises result in the rupturing of the train of thought of such chronic alcoholic spasmodics as myself.

Therefore, I express (CNR express) these views (orthographic, isometric and auxiliary) in the hope that some action will be taken against the perpetrators of this abcessive noise.

Yours fooly,

J.M. Thompson C.R.U.D.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Another feature of our society is the lack of interest in politics and the lack of political knowledge among the members. This is particularly true of the younger generation who seem to be more interested in sports and recreation than in politics. This is a great pity as it is important for us to be informed about what is happening in the world around us.

Dear Editor,

Is it not a fact that we are like decaying leaves in a stink stagnant pond? Of course we are.

Our minds are like becalmed ships in the Doldrums. We are like poorly working robots going to lectures, returning to our rooms, going to the coffee shop and then into the television room. The level of conversation of the future leaders of Canada is indeed appalling. The mind is never stimulated except when we sit at the examination tables and sweat over some paper.

Why not sit in the coffee shop or the Stewart Room and listen? I can save you the trouble for all you will hear is women and sport. On the very odd occasion one may hear a semblance of intelligence, which separates us from the common labourer in the Tavern. But even here, one is inclined to hear dirty jokes and filthy songs. I have sat at tables where a good intelligent conversation has just started to feel its birth pangs. But this never lasts for long because there is always the abortive element who enters the discussion with, "Man, did you see number 6 rack me up against the boards last night?"

Gentlemen, this we know to be the truth. Let us situate ourselves so that the Trades may blow us out of the Doldrums. Let us hope that some child or some Botany specialist will pluck us from the stagnant pond. Let us read more and argue more.

There are many people here from different countries, with different thoughts, beliefs and customs. There is so much we can derive from each other. Why not stimulate our active interest in discovering how we differ from each other, why we think differently and the effect that our backgrounds have had on us?

Let us do something to raise ourselves above this moronic level of intellectual sterility.

Yours truly,

M.J.E. Barnard.

Recently, the graduating classes in Home Economics from the University of Montreal and Macdonald College were invited to the January meeting of the Montreal Home Economics Association, held in the cafeteria by the Royal Victoria College Montreal. The evening's activities began with refreshments which consisted of dessert and coffee. One of the highlights of the evening was a movie entitled, "A View from the Mountain", (a film stressing the importance of dietetic work in the hospital, as well as the community). Following the movie, there were interviews of representatives of different fields of Home Economics. This gave the undergraduates attending the meeting an inside view of the types of work which will be available to them after they graduate.

Speaking of Home Economics, the club of that name is planning a meeting for February - and will also be sponsoring the Royal Tea.

The Faint-Ye is to get a "new look". As soon as the class issues have all come out, the Faint-Ye will appear in Tabloid form, similar to the McGill Daily Paper.

The I.V.C.F. announces that its schedule of weekly activities is continuing usual. These activities include:

Girls' Prayer Meeting	- Monday, Wednesday, Friday
Boys' Prayer Meeting	- Monday, Friday
Joint Prayer Meeting	- Tuesday 8:00-8:20 A.M., Room M12
Bible Study	- Thursday 7:15-8:30 P.M., Room M12
Hymn Sing	- Sunday 6:00-6:45 Room M12

On February second, there will be a very special concert put on by the Montreal Orchestral Society, a musical ensemble whose prime concern is its devotion to music even before its consideration of an audience. The orchestra has been rapidly gaining prominence under its conductor-founder, Joseph Berljawsky. It is an amateur group composed basically of about thirty-six, though this number is often augmented by other instrumentalists and soloists. The programme will include a wide variety of compositions representing almost every century. The orchestra has been widely acclaimed for its high standard of musicianship and distinguished interpretations equalling on a congenial amateur level what has been attained in the more austere professional levels.

The Junior Prom is to be on the night of March 20th. There is to be one orchestra, and it is rumoured that the theme will be "southern". The name of the prom is as yet undisclosed.

The Community Chest campaign got under way on Monday, when Dr. Dion laid down the first pennies and started each angel off collecting "pennies from heaven". The penny race was won by the team consisting of Juniors, Frosh and Dips, who laid down approximately $95.00 worth of pennies. They were followed closely by the Seniors, Sophs, Postgrads and Handicraft students with $80.00. The two teachers' teams fell behind but still donated a considerable amount, with the result that the total amount collected was $250.00. All who participated deserve thanks for a job well done.

Another feature of the campaign was a basketball game between the hoopsters from Mac, and those from Delta Sigma Phi fraternity of McGill.

On Tuesday night the commuters, and some of the resident students put on a variety show which was enjoyed by all who attended. The proceeds from this event boosted the fund to approximately $360.00. This sum is about half the college objective, and it is hoped that by the end of the campaign, Mac will have raised its full objective, or even surpassed it!

Recently a member of the Junior class toured the new Women's Residence and reported as follows, "Plumbers, carpenters, painters, masons and acoustic specialists - a total of about 50 men - were all busy trying to meet a theoretical deadline of February 15th, of this year. I mention 'this year', because when I talked to Mr. Salvas, who seemed to be the general foreman, and a group of men, they laughed, and wanted to know if I meant February 15th, 1960!"

Apparently the wing which contains the majority of rooms is supposed to be finished earlier than the rest of the buildings. However, Mr. Salvas doesn't believe that there will be much of an advance over the main part of the building, maintaining that construction has a tendency to proceed uniformly. He and his men agreed that the whole residence would not be completed before April 15th.

Most of the rooms have had their first coat of paint. Bright colours of blue, green, pink and yellow are the mode. The door frames are of dark stained hardwood. (The doors have not yet arrived.) The finished ceilings will be of a suspended type using a light aluminum frame supported by wires. They will be generally white throughout the building. The halls have special acoustic material as ceilings.

The finished flooring, moulding, and doors have yet to be put in. The bathrooms are approaching completion. Soon the girls will have their new residence, as yet another addition to our campus draws to completion.

With the Royal fast approaching, everyone is working feverishly to make this Royal the best yet. It will be on Thursday, February 19th. Dr. G.S.H. Barton will officially open the day's proceedings, and will be assisted in judging the booths by Miss Diane Raymond, President of the Canadian Dietetics Association, and Mr. Robert Raynauld.

Some of the events will include:

Tractor Rodeo, Icerama, Salad and Cookie Demonstrations, Puppet Show, Fashion Show, Gymnastic Display, Livestock Show, Folk Dancing, Textiles Display (emphasizing new synthetic fibres, labelling, what to look for when buying, care of clothes, etc.), Table decorating display, Tea in the Home Management Apartment, Poultry judging and Horticulture judging (to be done earlier - on Saturday, February 14th), Knitting competition, Baking contest.

Judging by the diversity of these activities and the care with which each is being planned, it would appear that this year's Royal cannot help but be a great success.

FEATURES

VIEWS ON STAFF - STUDENT RELATIONSHIPS AT MAC

Sitting around the coffee shop and the Stewart Room one hears many views on the relationship that exists between the staff and students here at Macdonald. For the most part the views seem to be against the staff. Not many people voice their opinions on how they think the students act towards the staff. I think that this is one part of this question that needs examination. When we stop and think about it we will find that the staff members of Macdonald in the Institute of Education, the School of Household Science and in the Faculty of Agriculture, are very generous in the help and encouragement they give us, their students. It is the students who do not reciprocate and therefore I cannot see that any individual in the college has the right to speak disapprovingly of the way the staff treats the students. Each professor takes a very keen and direct interest in each boy or girl in his (or her) class. Some of these boys and girls deserve more encouragement than others for the simple reason that they are the few (and "few" should be underlined) who work hard and show the professors that there are some people gaining knowledge that will someday be of benefit to them. The future of the students, each and every one of the Clan Macdonald, is the prime interest of the faculty. This does not apply merely in the academic field but in extra-curricular activities as well. I think it is high time our hats were off to the men and women who give up their time to officiate on Sports Day or watch over the students in a hockey game or basketball game, and believe you me, they are just as proud of their students on the teams as you, the members of the Clan, are.

For far too long we have been sitting around talking about this relationship but not bothering to take a good look at our own actions. Perhaps if we made an effort to improve our own individual action we would benefit by it. Let's make a New Year's resolution to improve our part in the staff-student relationship.

We cannot say that this relationship is poor unless we agree that the real problem lies in the inability of the students in accepting the fact that it is up to them to improve it. In my opinion the staff is doing its part.

MR. ANTONI VALCIC

Thirty-three year old Tony Valcic has joined us at Macdonald College to take his B.Sc. (Agr.) in Entomology. His reason for coming here is to continue his education which he started ten years ago in Yugoslavia.

In 1950 Mr. Valcic was studying in the University of Zagrab, the capital of Croatia, as a student in Agriculture. Because he is a Christian, and had such a great feeling for the freedom of man, he spoke up at a student Communist rally with the result that he was officially proclaimed a reactionary. That made it so difficult for him that he had to resign. After returning to his home under the pretence of helping his father, he planned to escape with eight of his younger cousins.

Before coming to Canada in 1955, he worked in Italy and Germany on different jobs.

When asked about Yugoslavia he said, "Yugoslavia has six federal republics, five nations, four languages, three religions, two alphabets, but one political party."

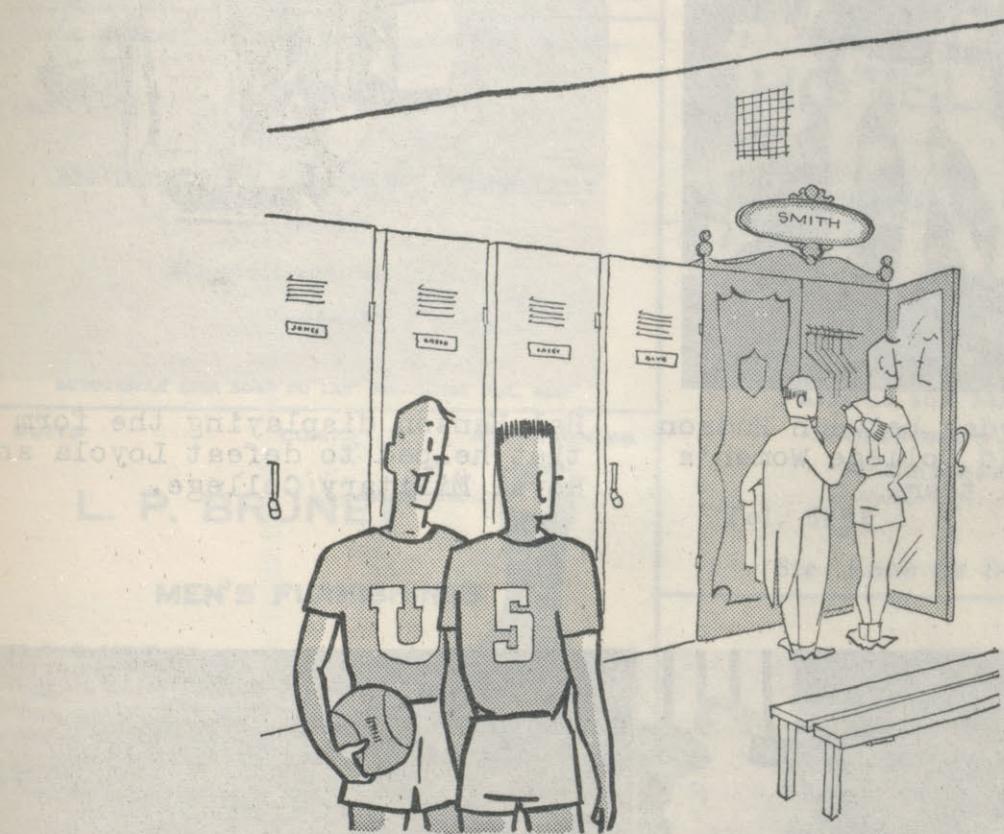

Antonio was born on an island on the rugged but mild east coast of the Adriatic Sea.

When I asked him for the most exciting experience of his life he told me about his escape. On an extremely stormy night the nine boys set out to cross the Adriatic Sea in a 24 foot boat. The storm was so bad that the Yugoslavian coast guard could not catch up to them. It was a great responsibility for Mr. Valcic being the oldest. Had the coast guard caught them it would have meant three years in jail. On the other hand, the storm was endangering their lives. Luckily the next morning they met a United States ship which gave them food and directions so they could continue their escape to Italy.

When asked about Macdonald Mr. Valcic said, "I like it", but even when asked for a critical opinion thought that Macdonald College would stand up evenly with European Universities.

Dear fellow students, would we fight for our freedom? If you are ever challenged, think of Tony who will never bow to hammer and sickle.

SWIM MEET

We are now in the middle of the interclass swim meet and over 40 boys have signed their names, wishing to participate in the various events. Despite the fact that 40 boys signed to participate, only 31 boys showed up for the qualifying trials on Monday and Tuesday night. On Wednesday night, Carmen Bradley, a terrific swimmer, won the 50 yard free style turning in a time of 24.2 sec. to break the record of 26.2 sec. set by Dick Layne in 1956. Bob Land won the 100 yard breast stroke with a time of 1:18.6 sec. This broke the record of 1:21.2 sec. set by F. Coulson in 1953. In the 200 yd. free style, Carmen Bradley again walked away with a first, turning in a time of 2:08.9 sec. crashing the record time of 2:20.0 sec. set by B. Shone in 1955.

In the 150 yd. medley relay, the Sophs won with their three man team consisting of B. Land, E. Walcott and F. Diaz-Arquelles. The time for the race was 1:44.5 sec. The finals of the 100 yd. free style, the 50 yd. breast stroke, the 50 yd. back stroke and the 200 yd. free style relay are to be run off Thursday night. Carmen Bradley in a qualifying heat Tuesday night turned in a time of 56.4 sec. for the 100 yd. free style, breaking an old record of 59.1 sec. He may even cut this time down more in the finals Thursday night. So congratulations Carmen for a fine showing.

The Mac team went down to Chazy, New York on Wednesday night. The Mac team was victorious 62-58.

This Friday night, the Mac team meets with Delta Sigma Phi in an exhibition game in the Women's Gym.

WINTER CARNIVAL

With the winter carnival coming up I would like to remind all boys at Mac that there is a woodsman's competition being held as usual and it is expected that every class will turn out with their best 4-man team of axe-slingers. Dave Marsh is convenor of the competition this year so any information on the event can be obtained from him.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

NEW ADDITION TO ATHLETIC STAFF

This past September we had a new addition to the Athletic Staff, name Miss Margaret Walker. Upon graduating from the University of Toronto in the School of Physical Education, Miss Walker came to McGill and began teaching and coaching her favorite pastime. Last summer she went down to the State University of Idaho and there obtained her Master's Degree.

Miss Walker chose this field because she maintains that Physical Education is something which is beneficial to the individual both physically and mentally, and that it is an excellent diversion from daily work. To be an enthusiastic instructor one must have the interest and ability to put across the purpose to others and to have the personality which will "make" the work and not "break" it.

Welcome to the Clan, Miss Walker, and may your stay with us be a pleasant and interesting one.

SWIMMING

WINTER CARNIVAL MEET

A meet will be held on Feb. 6th at 8:30 p.m. against McGill and Queen in the Women's pool. Spectators are Welcome.

HOCKEY

The Intercollegiate Hockey Team will be picked in the near future from the eighteen girls who have been attending practices. The team will play a game against a team of the West Indian boys on Rink Night during the Winter Carnival. This has been a highlight of the program and the girls are looking forward to denting the twine a couple of times and getting a chance to prove their powers on

After the Carnival the Interclass Hockey will get under way, so be sure to read the coming Faint-Ye for more news on this subject.

INTERCLASS VOLLEYBALL

Well, the race is on! So far the Soph Phys. Eds., Seniors, Juniors and Soph. Home Ecs. are the teams remaining undefeated.

Let's see YOUR team on the winners list. Remember if your team doesn't show up, it doesn't put you among the winners. Come out and SHOW the spirit YOUR CLASS HAS.

INTERCOLLEGIATE VOLLEYBALL

This is the BIG WEEK! Tuesday, we play a practice game against the Soph Phys. Ed. boys volleyball team. Thursday, it's Mac vs McGill and Saturday we are on our way to Carleton College. We hope our week is successful - time will tell! Results in next issue!

INTERCLASS BADMINTON

The first rounds of the Interclass doubles and singles Badminton Tournaments are now well underway. However, there are still a few people who have not yet completed this first round, and they are to be reminded that this round must be completed by Wednesday, January 28th. Birds for the tournament may be obtained from Elizabeth Meade, Ann Vine or Miss Walker.

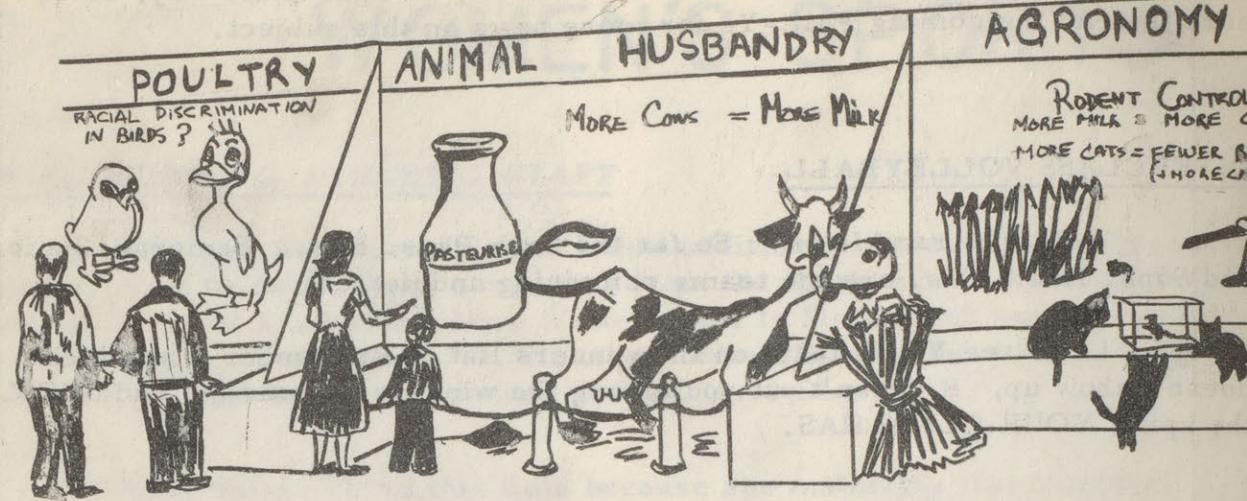

CURLING

The Curling Round Robin commenced at the Glenfinnan Skating Rink December 6th. Two Sections A and B, each consisting of ten teams are participating.
